Custom Promotional Labels for Restaurants & Takeout Packaging

Turn every takeout order into advertising.

Custom promotional labels help restaurants promote special offers, limited-time deals, new menu items, events, and loyalty programs directly on their packaging. Every order becomes a way to keep your brand and message in front of customers long after they leave.

Create custom restaurant labels in minutes using our easy online design tool. Upload your logo or artwork, add your promotional message, choose your brand colours, and design professional labels—no design experience required.

Perfect for takeout bags, boxes, cups, containers, and food packaging, these custom promotional stickers are printed with sharp colour and crisp detail for a clean, eye-catching finish.

Choose flexible options with different materials, sizes, and quantities to match your restaurant's needs—whether you're running a short promotion or ongoing campaign.

More than just labels, they are a low-cost marketing tool that helps increase brand awareness, boost sales during promotions, drive repeat orders, and keep customers engaged with your offers.

Every order includes free professional design support from real designers who review your artwork to ensure clarity, consistency, and print-ready quality.

Your designs are securely saved for fast reorders, making it easy to update promotions and keep your marketing consistent across all packaging.
